VIII. REQUIREMENTS FOR MATERNITY HOMES

The requirements for Residential/Group Home which pertain to the care of children prescribed under other sections of this document shall be followed. In addition, there shall be compliance with the following specific requirements for maternity homes. (MS Code §43-15-103(k) – See Appendix P)

A. Staffing Requirements:

1. The maternity home shall provide a staff/child ratio of one (1) staff member to every five (5) females ~~10 adolescent girls~~.

2. During sleeping hours, two ~~one~~ staff members shall be on duty and awake on-site for emergencies.

3. A maternity home caring for young children and infants shall provide a ratio of at least one staff member to five (5) ~~six~~ children. When mothers are not participating in the care, one staff member to four (4) infants shall be in effect.

4. A maternity home shall have, on the premises or otherwise readily available at all times, a registered nurse or licensed practical nurse.

5. A maternity home shall obtain consultation from a licensed practicing physician concerning medical plans and a program of medical care for the mothers and their children.

VIII. REQUIREMENTS FOR MATERNITY HOMES

The requirements for Residential/Group Home which pertain to the care of children prescribed under other sections of this document shall be followed. In addition, there shall be compliance with the following specific requirements for maternity homes. (MS Code §43-15-103(k) – See Appendix P)

A. Staffing Requirements:

1. The maternity home shall provide a staff/child ratio of one (1) staff member to every five (5) females.

2. During sleeping hours, two staff members shall be on duty and awake on-site for emergencies.

3. A maternity home caring for young children and infants shall provide a ratio of at least one staff member to five (5) children. When mothers are not participating in the care, one staff member to four (4) infants shall be in effect.

4. A maternity home shall have, on the premises or otherwise readily available at all times, a registered nurse or licensed practical nurse.

5. A maternity home shall obtain consultation from a licensed practicing physician concerning medical plans and a program of medical care for the mothers and their children.