k. Any licensed alligator rancher who has also been appointed as an agent trapper who fails to obtain proper permits before harvesting, selling, or transporting alligators of wild origin to his ranching facility shall be in direct violation of MISS. CODE ANN. §49-7-47, harvesting of alligators for commercial purposes without a permit, and shall therefore be guilty of a Class I violation as specified by that code.

G. Regulations Governing the Operation of Alligator Ranches: Alligator ranches may be established and operated and alligators, eggs, and hides may be possessed only under permit by the Department and subject to the following restrictions and conditions:

Documentation shall be sufficient to demonstrate the inventory is commensurate with production and survival levels for captive populations as measured against professionally accepted biological standards.

Permits to establish and operate alligator ranches are not transferrable except when incident to sale or other transfer of ownership of the facility where transferees of the facility have met criteria established by Department rule and subject to the approval of the permit transfer by the Department.

b. The permittee shall provide rearing tanks (of concrete, fiberglass, plastic, or metal construction) for alligators less than four (4) feet in length but the Department may, at its discretion, allow alligators three (3) to four (4) feet in length to be confined in outdoor facilities. Alligators less than two (2) feet in length shall be housed separately from those two (2) to four (4) feet in length. Onsite propagation facilities will also provide ponds, nest sites, and spacing for breeding adults, and artificial incubators. The Department, at its discretion, may specify specific spacing requirements and stocking rates for propagation facilities.

c. The permittee shall make all alligator eggs produced on the ranch available for inspection by September 15 of each nesting year. All alligator eggs shall be in containers having not more than one (1) layer of eggs at one (1) incubation facility on each alligator ranch. Only viable alligator eggs will be credited to the egg inventory. Eggs laid after September 15 may be collected and added to the egg inventory if egg development characteristics indicate a laying date after September 1, and nests are verified by Department personnel prior to being collected.

d. Alligator ranch permittees shall furnish alligator housing of sufficient size and design as provided by regulation, such that alligators shall be kept in a humane and sanitary manner.

3. Permittees may obtain a permit from the Department to receive eggs or alligators from other states provided that the stock was legally acquired and that the permittee complies with the requirements set forth in the General Provisions (1) (b) of this rule and the rules of the state of origin.

4. Additional specifications for raising alligator hatchlings:

a. The Department may, at its discretion, require marking of baby alligators and may provide specifications for markings.

b. Rearing tanks shall contain dry and wet areas of sufficient surface area to permit all alligators to completely submerge in water and completely exit from water and orient in any direction without touching the sides of the tank. Dry areas may be in the form of constructed platforms installed in each tank designed in such a fashion as to permit alligators to completely exit the water and rest on the platforms. The Department may, at its discretion, require specific alligator stocking rates for specific facilities. These requirements shall be made in writing. Failure to comply with these recommendations shall constitute a violation of this rule.

c. Rearing tank(s) must be readily drainable for purposes of inventory.

H. Sale of Alligators
